“Magogodi’s stage presence was incredible.
She’s radiant when speaking”
—Creative Mornings 2019, New York

Biography

Magogodi is known for reaching into your heart cavity and expanding that space within the span of a single sentence—both on the stage and on the page.

She inspires folks toward purposeful action through her signature approach of unlocking the interconnected humanity in each of us.

She's spoken at leading organizations like The BBC, Unilever, The Washington Post, MasterCard, United Nations and MercyCorp.

She's led workshops from New Zealand to Ireland—sharing the stage (and dance moves!) with Nobel laureates like Archbishop Desmond Tutu and fellow writers like Arundhati Roy & U.S. poet laureate Joy Harjo. Her first book, INNARDS, is out June 6, 2023 from W.W.Norton.

Featured Talks:

Belonging & Otherness

Despite catch phrases like "Bring your whole self to work", you may still struggle with belonging and feeling fully seen, regardless of your identity.

Magogodi helps you craft a culture designed to embrace the singularity in each of us. This talk gives you tools to liberate yourself, at work and beyond.

Work & Worth

What you do for a living is not your worth as a human, even as your work helps fulfill your life purpose.

Magogodi helps you tap the power of your ambition without questioning your worth. Act knowing, *You Are Enough!

Creativity & Storytelling

Stories make us whole. In sharing your full story, you invite others into shared experience and purposeful action.

Magogodi challenges you to craft your own powerful story that draws others in, to build real community.

Why Book Magogodi?

Magogodi's warmth, historical knowledge and curiosity was so evident and demonstrated how to start looking at healing from racism-based trauma."

—Trauma Summit, 2022

Magogodi's ability to storytell and bring others' journeys to real life really impressed us and the crowd.

She was magnificent.

—MetLife, 2018

What I enjoyed most is Magogodi's blend of humor, wisdom, and compassionate guidance through the depths of despair and the joy of visioning this world free of racism.

—Antiracist Workshop, 2022
